Report vandalism

High-tech war on bus shelter wreckers

By DAVID WATKINSON

More than 100 bus shelters in Lancashire have been smashed in the past year.

And now a high-tech crackdown is being been launched.

A new iPhone application has been set up so people can report attacks on bus shelters. Concerned residents can also report the crimes to staff by texting details.

Rick Wilson, safer travel unit manager at Lancashire County Council, said: "Mindless damage to bus shelters is a real problem across the whole county but, up until now, people have been unsure whether to report damage to the police, bus companies, or the local authority.

"We want to work with Lancashire residents to tackle this problem, so we have introduced our own SMS service and teamed up with the website Love Clean Streets to provide an easy way for people to report this type of vandalism.

"Either by sending a simple text message, or downloading a free smartphone application, people can instantly identify damaged bus shelters and help us to deal with this issue."

Lancashire has a total of 2,180 bus shelters spread across the county. Almost half of them are owned by district councils, some 500 are maintained by the county council, a similar number belong to commercial operators, and the remainder are looked after by parish councils.

Mr Wilson said the new initiative meant residents could report bus shelter problems, such as smashed windows or graffiti, to a single contact point.

County Coun Tim Ashton added: "Damaged bus shelters are potentially dangerous and cause inconvenience for bus users. They can also blight local communities and adversely affect people's quality of life"

To instantly report a damaged shelter, you can text the message: 'BUS SHELTER' to 82070, followed by the type of damage, and the bus shelter location. Owners of iPhones can download a free 'app' – search for Love Clean Streets – take a photo of the damage and then send it.

Lottery bid for bigger theatre

By JOHN ANSON

The Thwaites Empire Theatre, in Blackburn, is putting together an ambitious bid to double the size of its performing arts centre.

The Ewood-based theatre is to ask the National Lottery Fund for half-a-million pounds for a scheme which would see a state-of-the-art recording studio, a cafe and a second floor added to the Capita Performing Arts Centre. The plan would also provide additional rehearsal and meeting rooms, and a brand new entrance on Aqueduct Road, with a large foyer and lift to the first floor. New en-suite dressing rooms would also be built.

Managing director Michael Berry said: "In the eight years since the theatre opened we have established ourselves as a focal point for the whole community. There is such a demand for our facilities during the week that we are having to turn groups away.

"This plan will enable us to meet a genuine need. It is a lot of money to ask for but, even if our application for funding is unsuccessful, we will make this happen."

More than £1million has been raised to transform the former derelict Red Brick Theatre into a thriving arts centre over the past eight years.

The performing arts centre is linked to the theatre itself. Final touches are being put to the bid for Lottery cash which will be submitted in the next few weeks.

Star spectacle as 'Ken' visits shop

A business has revealed how Coronation Street's Ken Barlow visits Accrington whenever he needs a fresh new look. Spex opticians, in Union Street, revealed actor William Roach thinks nothing of making the 100-mile round trip to visit them whenever he needs a new pair of specs. The firm says it is 20 years since the 78-year-old bought his first pair from them. Owner Kevin Horkin said: "Customers are left feeling rather star-struck by his visits."

Hero laid to rest

By SAM CHADDERTON

GRIEF: Jordan's coffin arrives at the church. Right, Jordan's girlfriend Lauren and his mum Sheila

Tears of sadness were lost among the rain as Earby came to a standstill for its fallen hero.

The heavens opened for the full military funeral of Lance Corporal Jordan Bancroft at All Saints' Church, Earby, on Friday, almost three weeks since he died in a gunfight on a security operation in Afghanistan.

The 1st Battalion the Duke of Lancaster's Regiment soldier was given an emotional send-off from a church packed full of 300 family and friends, and hundreds more watching on a big screen outside. Shops were closed, pupils left their desks and lined the streets alongside residents, young and old, to watch the final journey of the 25-year-old.

A crowd stood behind floral displays spelling out 'Boyfriend, Friend, Hero', standard bearers lowered their flags, and an armed guard lined the path in salute to their comrade. Parents Tony and Sheila, brothers Paul and Leighton, sister Toni and girlfriend Lauren followed the Union Jack-draped coffin carried by his fellow soldiers.

COURAGEOUS: Jordan Bancroft

Ahead of the service, Colonel Gary Deakin, of the Duke of Lancaster's Regiment, said: "He was a fantastic soldier, a first-class soldier. I remember a soldier who always smiled, had a sense of adventure, was a real team player, was loved by all his family and friends and all the boys looked up to him."

Commanding officer Lieutenant Colonel Andrew Kennedy spoke during the service about a soldier with a 'zest for life', known in the force as 'Banky' or 'J' and who spent nine years in the Army serving in Canada, Cyprus, Germany, UK, Iraq twice and Afghanistan.

He said: "He possessed loyalty in spades. He was the epitome of a leader, calm under pressure, courageous, diligent, selfless, caring. There are far too few like him. The world is a little less bright, a little less complete. England has lost one of her Lions."

Dad Tony told the congregation Jordan was going to propopse to Lauren after his tour. He said: "Not only has Jordan been robbed of life itself, but also robbed of giving life. Jordan would have made a fantastic father to some fantastic children. Jordan, you'll always be our super, super hero. Rest in peace son."

Girlfriend Lauren said: "Although I only got a fraction of the time I wanted with Jordan, I've got precious memories which I'll treasure forever. Jordan used to say we were like two jigsaw pieces that fitted together and I couldn't believe how happy I was. When I think of the future it has no colour to it. He brightened up every room he walked into."

Younger brother Leighton, 23, described his 'Big bro' as 'the perfect role model' and recalled childhood adventures which choked him to tears. "He paid the biggest sacrifice of all protecting the people he loved, most of those he had never met."

Close family then went to Salterforth Cemetery to lay him to rest with the backdrop of a three volley salute and The Last Post.

Last respects to 'number one fan'

By EMMA CRUCES

FINAL FAREWELL: The cortege of Antony Cox, inset, draped in red and white, leaves the Oaklea Tavern

Hundreds paid their last respects, before red and white balloons were released for Accrington Stanley's 'number one fan'.

The funeral of 33-year-old Antony Cox, at Accrington Crematorium, was standing room-only, with every corner of the chapel filled, and many more crowding in the grounds.

On its way to the crematorium, the cortege stopped outside the home of Antony's beloved team for a final visit to the Crown Ground.

Continuing on to the Oaklea Tavern, supporters and mourners were waiting for the procession, with 40 vehicles joining the cortege.

Arriving at the crematorium, Antony's father and brother walked ahead of the cortege, wearing Stanley shirts bearing the words 'RIP Bro' and 'RIP Son'.

Mourners, who included Accrington Stanley chief executive Rob Heys, wore red and white, with many wearing Stanley shirts, as requested by the family.

Speaking at the funeral, Antony's brother, Dwayne, said his brother was also his best friend. He said: "He was my best man and godfather to my children. I remember when we were at school, Antony played Oliver Twist and ever since then I have loved the film. He would always phone me up whenever it was on. When I got the call to say Antony had died, I felt my world had fallen apart."

The former Rhyddings High School student had worked at Holland's Pies, and at S.G. Aluminium before becoming the landlord of the Tinker and Budget pub, in Oswaldtwistle, 18 months ago. Humanist minister Edward Joyce said: "He was a generous man, a thoughtful man, a popular man. He was a loyal supporter of Accrington Stanley – their 'number one fan' – and he was loved by many."

The committal of his coffin took place as 'Cart on Accrington Stanley' played, followed by 'You'll Never Walk Alone'.

A close circle of Antony's relatives and friends released dozens of red and white balloons, each with a message for 'Coxy' attached to the string.

Antony was killed on Monday, August 30 after being struck by a train near Church and Oswaldtwistle railway station.

Needles dumped in churchyard

By TOM MOSELEY

Residents are trying to raise the money for a CCTV camera after claiming a churchyard was being blighted by yobs.

They said needles had to be cleared from the grounds of St Peter's Church, off Church Terrace, Darwen, on Sunday mornings before services. Mattresses were also left in the area, which has been branded a fly-tipping hotspot.

Now people in the area are fighting back and, after forming a residents' association, have secured alley gates and £250 towards the cost of CCTV.

Last Wednesday night, Joseph Street resident Mark Westall asked Darwen Town Council to contribute the final £250, which would secure the post to which the police have agreed to add a camera.

A formal funding bid will be submitted to a future meeting of the council.

Mr Westall said things had improved in the area in recent months, but more had to be done.

He said: "We need the camera to tackle anti-social behaviour, especially in the churchyard.

"Some children have found needles, and one of the duties for the Rector on a Sunday morning is picking up the needles. It is being tackled, but we are still getting the fly-tipping."

The Rev Andrew Holliday, of St Peter's Church, said: "Needles have been dropped, and we have had problems in the past. There is always a challenge, and out of that challenge come signs of community spirit and valuing one another."

Ward councillor Tony Melia has offered to help the residents secure the final £250. He said: "Twelve months ago they had real problems, and there are still elements of anti-social behaviour. People are drinking on the streets, and a camera will be a good deterrent."

New mum proud 'first'

By DAVID WATKINSON

Accrington mum Samantha Squire became the first to have a baby at the brand-new Blackburn Birth Centre.

Little Eve came into the world at 12.30am on Tuesday of last week, weighing in at 7lb 8oz.

She was the first birth at the Park Lee Road facility, which has replaced the Royal Blackburn Hospital for straightforward deliveries.

From November, East Lancashire's complicated births will be handled at the new women and children's centre at Burnley General.

Samantha, 38, an accountant, said: "I think the birth centre is a fantastic facility. I would definitely recommend it because it's such a lovely environment."

The centre is led by midwives, and women have their babies in spacious en-suite rooms, complete with birth pools and aids.

He will be joined on stage by his friend Peter Hayter, cricket writer for the Mail On Sunday.

The show is on Thursday, November 4. Tickets cost £16 on 01282 661234.

Laughter line-up

COMEDY KING: Jimmy Carr

Some of the biggest names in comedy are being lined up for East Lancashire's annual fortnight of fun.

Blackburn and Darwen's Comedy Festival will see more than 20 comedians perform over 17 days, from November 4 to 20.

The previously named You Must Be Joking Festival will once again see the King George's Hall complex at the centre of the fun, with selected shows held at Darwen Library Theatre and, for the first time, Thwaites Empire Theatre.

For the fourth year in a row some of the country's leading comedians will make a beeline for East Lancashire, including king of the one-liner Jimmy Carr and new BBC One Show presenter Jason Manford. Eight Out Of Ten Cats captain Jimmy will play two nights this year, and there are tickets still remaining for both gigs.

Frankie Boyle returns to the festival after his appearance in 2008, with two nights of his brand new show. The gigs at King George's Hall, both which sold out almost immediately, are part of what is reported to be the last tour for the near-the-knuckle comic and star of Mock The Week.

Scouse funnyman John Bishop will be swapping the TV studios of John Bishop's Britain for Saturday and Sunday night performances in Blackburn. The Pub Landlord Al Murray makes a return to the festival, and Dave Spikey joins the line-up with a gig at the Thwaites Empire Theatre.

● Tickets for most shows are still available to book, but they're selling fast. To book yours contact the box office on 0844 847 1664.

Fall in love with the Vista - hook, line and sinker

For free and easy family holidays it's hard to beat a caravan. The Villa Caravan Park and Fisheries in Carnforth, Lancashire is hoping to reel in new holiday home-from-home owners with the launch of its best value model yet; the ABI Vista static caravan.

Comprising two bedrooms, lounge/dining room, well-equipped galley kitchen and WC/shower room, the comfortable, stylish Vista is double glazed and complete with central heating. Its attractive £24,995 price tag, exclusive to The Villa, is made more appealing by a generous trade-in deal from the Villa's owners, Pure Leisure. The company is offering buyers of a Vista caravan at The Villa the trade-in value of their old touring caravan – plus a £1,000 bonus.

Renowned for its excellent course fishing – the highly rated fishery complex is made up of four, interconnecting lakes – and away from it all setting, The Villa is a natural choice for keen anglers and holidaymakers who want a relaxing, tranquil holiday base from which to enjoy the great outdoors. The convenient location, not far from Junction 35 of the M6 and within easy reach of of the Lake District's many attractions is another plus point for holiday home owners.

Established in 1988, Pure Leisure Group is the family-owned company behind The Villa and a string of popular holiday leisure parks in the UK and abroad. The company also owns and operates Hall More Caravan Park and the award-winning Fell End Caravan Park with its £3.5 million leisure complex, both of which are idyllically located in woodland settings within the Arnside and Silverdale Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty at the southern gateway to the Lake District. Caravans are available to buy and rent at both parks along with facilities for touring caravans, motorhomes and camping pods..

More information on the Villa Caravan Park and Fisheries is available by calling 0800 652 3856 or else online at www.thevillafishery.co.uk

Believe in children — Barnardo's North West

Thinking of a New Career? Think Fostering

Barnardo's has been successfully providing specialist fostering services in the North West for over 30 years. In order to continue with this success we need more foster carers.

We offer our carers a
- weekly payment between £300 - £500 depending upon the needs and age of the child;
- the support of a dedicated professional team;
- ongoing training including the opportunity to complete NVQ level three in childcare.

We need foster carers who can provide both long term and short term family experiences for children usually between the ages of 8 - 18 years old.

These are children that have experienced trauma, distress and confusion. They need stability, care and a safe environment in which to thrive.

Experience of working directly with children and young people would be an advantage, but not essential.

Or could you look after a Disabled child and offer them the experience of family life until they reach adulthood?
